

Cosmetic Bonding

Cosmetic bonding is an excellent procedure if you have chipped, gapped, stained, and uneven or crooked teeth. With dental bonding these problems can easily be corrected, often in one visit even in extreme makeover cases. Bonding instantly puts the smile back on your face. Look what bonding could do for you with just a little time and without a lot of money.

What is Bonding

Bonding is a way to connect the restorative dental material to the tooth structure itself. Any material (metal, porcelain, composite) can be bonded to tooth structures using special process of priming the surface and connecting the material with a dental adhesive. Cosmetic bonding uses this technology by sculpturing the appropriate composite material on the tooth surface and hardening it by a special light. It requires a deep knowledge of the physical properties of many different composites and an artistic ability to create a beautiful makeover for teeth.

Testimonials

"...I just came from my vacation and got my pictures back. When I saw them it was the first time in my life I could actually say that I have a nice smile. Thank you Dr. Joffe. It was worth every penny..." —Mrs. K, 46.
