Zirconium base Crowns and Fixed Bridges

One of the problem associated with conventional crown and bridges is that they block the natural light what makes them lacking the translucency and vitality. In time also the dark area can show on the gum line. Metal free restorations look much more natural. Pure strong porcelain and ceramic bridges, completed without any metallic base, which would block the natural light reflection – a must for natural look, they represent the state-of-the-art replacements of lost teeth not available before. Made by using the newest CAD-CAM technologies and Zirconium base, they bring back total normal functionality, restoring the original anatomical design and beauty. Firmly attached by bonding to the remaining tooth structure, they do to have to be taken out, allowing brushing them right in your mouth and give you the ability to be yourself every time you eat or drink like if you are born with them. You will look and feel younger.

Testimonials

"I love my new teeth! People do not even notice my crowns on the front six teeth. They look just great. Thank you!" —Ms. Perez, 22

"I feel so comfortable and can eat everything again. Only now I realize how difficult it was to redo my mouth but it looks so good." —Mr. M., 56
