

Removable Dentures

Removable denture is an economical option to replace missing teeth in order to restore your mouth to better function and look. We use the superior materials and employ the greatest dental technicians for the best possible quality and the craftsmanship that goes in their design. Being a cosmetic dentist means also that we pay a special attention to the personal esthetics making sure that the denture teeth look absolutely natural like if they grow right out of you gums. We also have a special option to keep the removable teeth stable with small bone screws. There are a lot of people having dentures that are very uncomfortable – ask you parents, your friends. You could give them the good news. Get involved. The following shows the natural appearance of dentures.

Solutions for Loose Dentures

Creating a comfortable denture can be a challenge for the patient and for the dentist. It requires special skills and training of the dentist. And even then a complete denture experience especially the lower one could be very challenging. There is a new technology that allows stabilizing the denture with relatively simple mini dental implants (screws). What makes it different from conventional implants is the fact that it does not require the surgery, suturing, months of healing and has only a small fraction of the cost associated with regular implants. The complete procedure to stabilize the denture takes one short visit and allows the patient to enjoy comfortable eating immediately.

With the newest technology we can firmly fasten those wobbly removable teeth. In about an hour you could enjoy again the security while eating, smiling and talking. You or somebody you know could get pleasure and security of stable removable denture. You or your parents would love the stable and comfortable feeling while eating your favored food. Go ahead, bite into an apple; get back in control.
